SOME CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Time of Planting. Iris can be planted any time of the year, when the ground is not frozen. For best results in this section July and August is the ideal time.

Location. Above all things Iris require plenty of sunlight. They will do well on the east or west side of houses or shrubbery. They require well drained soil; water should not stand where Iris grow.

Character of Soil. Any good garden soil will grow Iris to perfection. Fresh manure should never be used either for top dressing or placed in the soil. In preparing soil for Iris use well rotted manure supplemented with bone meal.

Care of Iris After Once Established. Very little care is necessary. It pays to keep the bed free from decomposing vegetable matter, such as dead leaves, mulch, etc. This should be removed in the spring before growth begins. Established Iris require no winter protection.

I have always endeavored to supply my customers with good strong roots and true to name. This I will continue to do. I want your patronage now and in the future.

My success is measured by my ability to please. If you are pleased, your next order will tell me so. Tell your friends about my collection. My prices are low considering the kind of root I send. If you are not satisfied, tell me; do not tell your friends until you have given me a fair chance to treat you right.

Correspondence solicited for special quotations on quantities of 100 to 1,000.

The same quality of roots will be supplied irrespective of quantity.
